WEEKLY STAFF NEWSLETTER: FEBRUARY 8-12, 2016

COMMON CORE

As students engage in the 5 C's per assignment, make sure to include communication and collaboration. Students need to have multiple opportunities to discuss ideas and strategies or solutions with each other. You can do this through pair share, mind maps, text discussions, solving word problems, etc. These 2 C's will allow students to take ownership of their learning.

PARENTS CORNER FROM ALMA CISNEROS

PBIS Parent University continued this week. This past week, Ms. Cisneros and Mr. Pinedo presented the topic of Bullying. Parents were highly interested in this topic and had many ideas to share out. Some of the discussion included identifying bullies, reacting to bullies, and preventing bullying. How can school become a safer place? Parent responses included increasing student supervision, parent involvement in school, increased communication with the school. Overall, parents are very happy with the PBIS Parent University Sessions and the information they are

ATTITUDE TO ACHIEVE

School site council has come up with a template that would assist in reporting computer lab problems/issues. I will put a copy in your box and we will make sure to have a stack of them, ready for your use, in the computer lab. The technology team is fairly quick in supporting our needs. It is a matter of reporting issues quickly so that they can then get fixed quickly. This form is quick, convenient, and allows you to report issues right away. Please complete the form as a reminder to yourself to process a Tech Request.

ENGLISH LEARNERS BY

FAMILY STUDENT SUPPORT COORINATOR

CELDT scores have arrived and Title III Annual Notification letters are being mailed out. These letters inform parents of their child's performance on the latest CELDT assessment (given in October) as well as current CELDT level. Parents are encouraged to attend the next ELAC meeting as they will go over Title III letters and what the new results mean for our English Learners.

KUDOS - TEAMWORK

- ☺ To Carrie for running and organizing the Spelling BEE!
- ☺ To Heather, Margarita, Sonia for coming their amazing teamwork in student support!
- ☺ To Alma for scheduling all the IEPs held last week!
- ☺ To Mr. Stephens and Mrs. Handley for hosting the Schools of Yesteryear Display!

ATTITUDE TO ACHIEVE

Having a positive attitude about taking on new challenges is key to success. When your students encounter feelings of frustration through academic challenges, remind them that they determine their own success. As they strive to persevere through the Interim Assessments, remind them to use the skills and strategies they have learned in class such as close reading, context clues, and reading for meaning.
